- Objectives
- Method
- Finding/ key result
- conclusion.

-construct in a SINGLE paragraph. Length (100-150 words)

Introduction & Objectives

XIAMEN UNIVERSITY MALAYSIA

Introduction

- Provide sufficient theories and formula for your report.
- Do not write in point forms/bullets/numbered. Write them as paragraphs.
- provides appropriate background to the experiment
- briefly explains any relevant theories/theory behind any calculation involved
- states the problem
- Any referred information must be cited
- 1 ~ 1.5 pgs

Objectives

-concisely states the objective/s of the experiment

Procedures

- List of equipment, step to carry out the experiment
- All steps performed should be listed in order in which you performed.
- Always include diagrams/photos/schematics, caption and label them
- MUST be written in passive voice

Active voice examples
Example	Monkeys adore bananas.

Passive voice examples
Example	Bananas are adored by monkeys.

Results

-Presents results of the experiment by using tables (or graphically, if necessary)

-Record observations (qualitative data) and numbers/measurements (quantitative data).

-Provide formula and sample of calculation performed on the collected data (if applicable)

-Use SI unit and show the unit in every calculation

-Calculate your percent error (if applicable).

-Do not manipulate data to fit the results.

Discussion

-Do not write in point forms/bullets/numbered. Write them as paragraphs.

-Discuss how results were analyzed, including error analysis

-interprets key results in relation to the aims/research question

- You may include precautions/recommendation.

- You may include your answer to post analysis question (if any)

- Any referred information must be cited

Conclusion

-Do not write in point forms/bullets/numbered. Write them as paragraphs.

-Refer back to objectives, restate the measured values and state whether the objective was met.

-Reminds the reader what problem was being investigated

-Summarize the findings in relation to the problem/hypothesis (predictions about what your experiment will find)

-So what you understand about your experiment based on your finding?

References

- Lists the publication details of all sources cited in the text, allowing readers to locate sources quickly and easily.
- Use APA (American Psychological Association) referencing and citation style.

How to cite using APA style?

Corder (1973) claimed that.....

Smith (1983) compared reaction....

As pointed out by Widdowson (2003)....

Research by Wegener and Petty (1994) supports....

In a recent study of reaction time.....(Smith, 1983).

Grammar was taught.....(Richards & Rodgers, 1986).

Debates and studies on.....are pertinent to many other countries such as Indonesia, Japan, Korea (Dash, 2002; Manara, 2007; Schmidt, 1995).

If the author is unknown, cite the source by the first or three words of the title. Titles of books or reports are italicized; title of articles, chapters, or web pages are place in quotation marks.
Examples:

.....on free care ("Study Finds", 2007) {Article}

.....in the book College Bound Seniors (2008). {Book}

How to cite using APA style?

Author Rules:

1. Initials are separated and ended by a period eg Mitchell, J.A
2. Multiple authors are separated by commas and an ampersand eg Mitchell, J.A., Thomson, M., & Coyne, R
3. Multiple authors with the same surname and initial: add their name in square brackets eg Mendeley, J. [James].

Date Rules:

1. Date refers to date of publishing
2. If the date is unknown 'n.d' is used in its place eg Mendeley, J.A. (n.d)

Title Rules:

1. The format of this changes depending on what is being referenced.

Author's surname, initial(s). (Date Published). Title of source. Location of publisher: publisher. Retrieved from URL

Publisher Rules:

1. If in the US: the city and two letter state code must be stated eg San Francisco, CA
2. If not in the US: the city and country must be stated eg Sydney, Australia

This is used if the source is an online source.

According to Jones (1998), "students often had difficulty using APA style, especially when it was their first time" (p.199).

OR

Interpreting these results, Robbins (2003) suggested that the "therapists in dropout cases may have inadvertently validated parental negativity about the adolescent" (p. 541), contributing to an overall climate of negativity.

OR

Motivation together with confidence increases when the learners have autonomy, which brings about authority or the opportunity to "assume leadership and develop independence and control over learning activities" (Schunk,2004, p.308).
