Report Guideline

General

- Font type: Time New Roman
- Font size: 12 points
- Line spacing: 1.5

Abstract

- Provides an overview of the report content, including findings and conclusions
- Construct in a SINGLE paragraph
- Paragraph length ≤ 100 words
- usually the last part of the document to be written

Report Guideline

1. INTRODUCTION

- provides appropriate background to the experiment
- briefly explains any relevant theories/theory behind any calculation involved
- states the problem and/or hypothesis
- Any referred information must be cited
- 1 ~ 1.5pgs

2. OBJECTIVES

- concisely states the objective/s of the experiment

3. PROCEDURES

- All steps performed should be listed in order in which you performed.
- MUST be written in passive voice.
- May include flow charts of procedures and/or diagrams of experimental set-up

Report Guideline

4. RESULTS

- Presents results of the experiment by using tables (or graphically, if necessary)
- Record observations (qualitative data) and numbers/measurements (quantitative data).
- Provide formula and sample of calculation performed on the collected data (if applicable)
- Use SI unit and show the unit in every calculation
- Calculate your percent error (if applicable).
- Do not manipulate data to fit the results.

5. DISCUSSION

- Discuss how results were analyzed, including error analysis
- interprets key results in relation to the aims/research question
- summarizes key findings and limitations
- You may include precautions/recommendation.
- If any data is rejected, explain why.
- You may include your answer to post analysis question (if any)
- Any referred information must be cited

Report Guideline

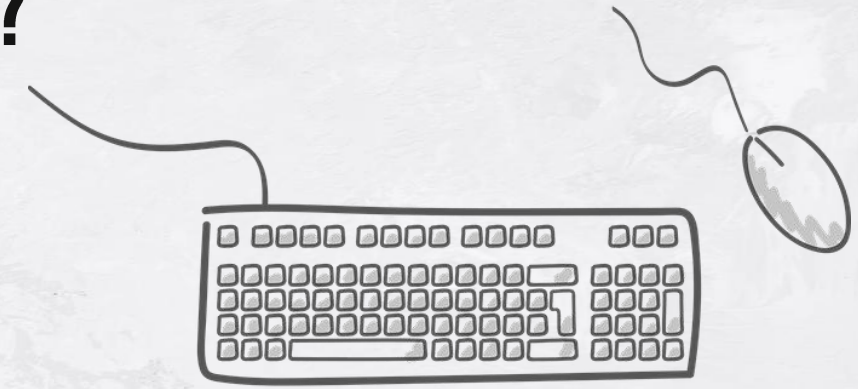

6. CONCLUSION

- Did you achieve your objective(s)?
- Reminds the reader what problem was being investigated
- Summarize the findings in relation to the problem/hypothesis
- So what you understand about your experiment based on your finding?

7. REFERENCES

- Lists the publication details of all sources cited in the text, allowing readers to locate sources quickly and easily
- Use APA referencing and citation style

How to cite using APA style?

Corder (1973) claimed that.....

Smith (1983) compared reaction....

As pointed out by Widdowson (2003)....

Research by Wegener and Petty (1994) supports....

In a recent study of reaction time.....(Smith, 1983).

Grammar was taught.....(Richards & Rodgers, 1986).

Debates and studies on.....are pertinent to many other countries such as Indonesia, Japan, Korea (Dash, 2002; Manara, 2007; Schmidt, 1995).

If the author is unknown, cite the source by the first or three words of the title. Titles of books or reports are italicized; title of articles, chapters, or web pages are place in quotation marks.
Examples:

.....on free care ("Study Finds", 2007) {Article}

.....in the book College Bound Seniors (2008). {Book}

Direct Quotes:

“When you directly quote your source, be sure to include the page number. Also be sure to put whatever words that ARE NOT yours in quotation marks (“CofC CSL APA Handout”,2010) .

How to cite using APA style?

Author Rules:

1. Initials are separated and ended by a period eg Mitchell, J.A
2. Multiple authors are separated by commas and an ampersand eg Mitchell, J.A., Thomson, M., & Coyne, R
3. Multiple authors with the same surname and initial: add their name in square brackets eg Mendeley, J. [James].

Date Rules:

1. Date refers to date of publishing
2. If the date is unknown 'n.d' is used in its place eg Mendeley, J.A. (n.d)

Title Rules:

1. The format of this changes depending on what is being referenced.

Author's surname, initial(s). (Date Published). Title of source. Location of publisher: publisher. Retrieved from URL

Publisher Rules:

1. If in the US: the city and two letter state code must be stated eg San Francisco, CA
2. If not in the US: the city and country must be stated eg Sydney, Australia

This is used if the source is an online source.

Examples:

According to Jones (1998), “students often had difficulty using APA style, especially when it was their first time” (p.199).

OR

Interpreting these results, Robbins (2003) suggested that the “therapists in dropout cases may have inadvertently validated parental negativity about the adolescent” (p. 541), contributing to an overall climate of negativity.

OR

Motivation together with confidence increases when the learners have autonomy, which brings about authority or the opportunity to “assume leadership and develop independence and control over learning activities” (Schunk,2004, p.308).
